TRIES TO GO TO CHURCH

A Three-Foot Bull Snake Killed at the First Methodist Church Yesterday Afternoon.

It is seldom that a snake gets the church-going habit, but that was what a bull snake attempted to do yesterday afternoon. One about three feet long was found on the lawn of the First Methodist church vainly trying to find the entrance to the church. Some persons passing down the street found the snake and killed it.

Y. M. C. A. ARMY CAMP TALK

John L. McDougal Addresses Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian Church.

John L. McDougal, who has been in training at Lake Geneva, Wis., for Y. M. C. A. army camp work, spoke to the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian church Sunday evening on the part that the Y. M. C. A. can do in the war.

At every national army camp there will be eight Y. M. C. A. buildings, according to Mr. McDougal. There will be five secretaries to each building. Each building will be expected to serve the interests of 4,000 to 5,000 men. Many of the soldiers have the opinion that the work is denominational, but such reports are untrue, he says. The Y. M. C. A. co-operates to the fullest extent with the army chaplain in religious services.

Every Y. M. C. A. building will have a piano and a Victrola. It was found on the Texas border last year that the men seldom enjoyed anything more than to gather around the piano and sing the old folk and religious songs. The soldier enjoys the very simplest of games, says Mr. McDougal, and the lobbies will be well-equipped with games such as checkers, chess, dominoes and pool.

'VOICE' BADE PASTOR

SERMON TEXT, "SLAY UTTERLY" CAUSED IOWA AX MURDERS.

LED BY SMITH SERMON

Words Ran Through Minister's Mind and Led Him to Kill Eight, an Alleged Confession Says.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Sept. 3.—"Slay Utterly" was the text which the Rev. Lynn G. J. Kelly followed when he slew with an ax Joseph Moore, his wife and four children, and the two little Stillinger girls as they lay in their beds in Villisca the night of June 9, 1912, according to a confession alleged to have been made before a state agent Friday morning. Information regarding the alleged confession was given out Saturday by State Agent J. E. Risdon and J. J. Hess, an attorney representing the prosecution.

Later the same day J. A. McKenzie of the legal firm retained by Kelly, after a visit to the accused man in his cell, said Kelly completely repudiated the confession. Judge A. L. Sutton of Omaha, another of Kelly's counsel, asserted the confession is worthless because it was obtained by drastic "third degree" methods.

Could not Forget the Words.

Kelly had heard a sermon by "Gypsy" Smith on the text "Slay Utterly," and had been working on a sermon from it, he is quoted as saying. According to the alleged confession the two words had been running through his mind for days. The night of the slaying a voice told him to go down the street from the Rev. W. J. Ewing's home, where he was staying, to the Moore house and go in after he had picked up the ax in the back yard. Then, according to the confession, the text came, "Slay Utterly," and following it, "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me," whereupon, Kelly said, he answered:

"Yes, Lord, they are coming quick," and began his blood curdling work.

Preached Twice the Preceding Day.

In the version of the confession given out here, Kelly is quoted as saying that he went to Villisca Saturday night, June 8. The next day he filled two pulpits near Villisca, returning to Villisca late in the afternoon. He took supper at the home of Mr. Ewing, pastor of the Presbyterian church. After supper Kelly says he accompanied the Ewing family to church and returned home with them, after the services.

The announcement goes on to say that Kelly explained he was unable to sleep because of cogitations upon the sermon, and his thoughts were constantly on the text, "Slay Utterly." In his own mind he was elaborating on the ideas he had heard expressed by the famous evangelist.

Suddenly from out of the night stillness Kelly is quoted as saying he heard a sound like that of a windmill. He arose and walked about the room, finally going out onto a little balcony. Out in the open he could hear no noise, he said. He then turned back into his room and went back to bed.

A "Voice" Urged Him on.

But sleep did not come. He determined to take a walk. That was about 12:45 o'clock, Kelly recalled. Still turning over in his mind the text, "Slay Utterly," Kelly is quoted as saying, he walked toward the Presbyterian church. In the midst of his pondering he is quoted as saying he heard a voice which bade him "go farther." His path then led him toward the end of the street on which Joseph Moore's home is.

Approaching the Moore house, the alleged confession continues, he saw a shadow. Something prompted him to follow and he saw an ax.

Thought He Climbed Jacob's Ladder.

He picked it up. Then came a voice, which rang in his ears:: "Go in, slay utterly." He followed the shadow to the front of the house, where it rested at the front door. He entered the house and went upstairs. Kelly is quoted as saying that as he mounted the stairs the thought came through his mind that he was ascending Jacob's ladder.

Arriving at the top of the stairs, according to the alleged confession, he turned into the room where four children were sleeping. He paused. Then came the voice again which Kelly believed was that of God.

"I'm Working Fast," Kelly Told God.

"Slay utterly," it commanded.

STATE CROP REPORT

INDICATES RECORD OATS YIELD AND LARGE WHEAT ACREAGE.

CORN BEST SINCE 1902

Great Increase in Home Canning — Effect of $2.20 Wheat Guarantee.

Missouri is producing war crops of 280 millions of bushels of corn, 42 millions of oats and 22.7 millions of wheat, to help feed more than a dozen allied nations, as shown by the September report of Secretary Jewell Mayes, issued Saturday from the office of the State Board of Agriculture. The report indicates the record-breaking oats crop of 14 years, the biggest corn crop since 1902, and fall planting of wheat 128 per cent compared with this year's harvesting.

Corn made wonderful improvement in August, except in spots in Northeast Missouri, where rainfall was short. The weather has been too cool for swift growth, but most of the corn will be safe from killing frost, which (on the average) comes from October 5 to 15 north of the river and from October 15 to 25 in the Southern area.

Corn is expected to sell at $1.02 a bushel at gathering time.

The 1917 corn total is 280,000,000 bushels on eight million acres—35 bushels an acre, a big gain over 27.6, the 17-year average.

Wheat, not all threshed, now indicates a yield of 14.8 bushels an acre. The 1,539,300 acres of wheat total 22,777,000 bushels, worth $50,109,840 at the government's fixed price of $2.20. Missouri's average farm selling price as shown in the August report was $2.21.

Oats are producing 38 bushels an acre so far as threshed, a new record of recent years, totaling 42,404,960 bushels on 1,115,920 acres, worth $23,322,728 at 55 cents, or $20.90 an acre. The 14-year average is 23.9 bushels.

Home canning as compared with last year is 184 per cent. The potato yield is 79 on 46,126 acres, or 3,645,000 bushels. Minor crops and emergency plantings are making unprecedented showings.

"The $2.20 guarantee on wheat," the report says, "should result in Missouri's meeting the government's request of 2,400,000 acres for 1918, but live stock production must not be upset. The Missouri farmer nailed the flag to his plow on the day the United States declared war, and he is doing his duty fully and faithfully."

Misses Allie and Addie Carpenter of Clearmont were shopping in Maryville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ellsworth and son, Leslie of Ravenwood were in Maryville Saturday.

PACIFISTS IN CHICAGA

Chicago Officials Disagree Concerning Regulation of Pacifists' Meeting.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Governor Lowden rushed to Chicago today to confer with Attorney General Brundage and to take personal charge of the pacifist's situation. He had been advised of the plan to hold additional secret meetings.

Five thousand troops are ready to march on the proposed pacifists' with fixed bayonets and await the arrival of Governor Lowden.

The chief of police is ready to resign rather than to carry out the possible orders of Mayor Thompson to use men to oppose the militia for the pacifists meeting this afternoon. He professed to believe the abilities of the mayor and police to protect them notwithstanding the announcement. The chief and governor announced plans are under way for a big mass meeting tomorrow and Mayor Thompson faces possible indictment probably for "palpable commission duty."

WEARS RAGAMUFFIN'S CLOTHES.

Marie Doro to Appear in Flat-Heeled Squeaky Shoes.

It is a custom when viewing an actress' wardrobe to rave over and admire beautiful house gowns, revel in the opera cloaks and go into ecstasies over the latest Parisian importations, but Marie Doro, the artistic Lasky star who will be seen at the Empire Theatre tonight in the Paramount Picture, "Lost and Won," has two articles of apparel which are always offered for inspection first. These are the shoes and stockings which she wears as the ragamuffin. The shoes are squeaky, flat heeled affairs which caused Miss Doro many hours of search, and were finally discovered in the general store of a small town.

The stockings are inspiring black and white affairs, stripes running lengthwise, purchased by Elliott Dexter, her husband, some time ago from a peddler in the East Side district in New York as a joke. The star being one of these young women who love to cherish keepsakes, had folded them away in a remote corner of her trunk and when she discovered she was to play the part of a newsie, promptly resurrected them. Later in the same picture Miss Doro has an opportunity to display a number of evening gowns.

Wooltex Coat Week

A Fall Coat Opportunity That Calls For Quick Action.

RIGHT now comes the call for a smart coat for the cool September mornings and evenings. But you want a coat that will look well and be in correct style for the winter months. You want a coat that will retain its correct lines and freshness as long as it is worn.

Copyright 1917 by The Wooltex Tailors

A New Wooltex Model, $25.00
Other Coats at $15.00 to $75.00.

We have been busy for the past ten days opening shipments of stunning new models in wide range of beautiful fabrics—Broadcloths, Dublay, Tweed Mixtures, Wool Velours, Lustre Velours, Duffield Weaves and Plushes in excellent qualities.

We secured these coats by a special arrangement with the H. Black Company and others of the most prominent manufacturers in this country.

This showing gives you an opportunity to get a smart fall coat now to give comfort on chilly evenings; to get it a month in advance of the season; and best of all to get it at a price that is remarkable—a price that could not be possible if we were to select them on today's market.

Quick action is called for—these coats will sell fast—the collection is the mosi complete now and offers a wider variety of selection than any time during the season—and qualities are better for the price than we can give when we have to replace them.

Come this week—next week may be too late.

How the Money Is Spent.

Subscribers to the recent $2,000,000,000 issue of liberty bonds and intending subscribers to the second liberty loan are interested in knowing just how the money obtained is used. A large amount of money is necessary to maintain the navy, which has been called upon to defend our coast and our commerce from attack.

To put the navy on a war basis, every ship in reserve had to be fully manned and commissioned. Many auxiliary vessels also had to be added.

On April 6 there were 64,680 enlisted men; now there are more than 136,000. In addition, we have enlisted more than 35,000 reserves and there are 10,000 National Naval Volunteers in service.

Contracts have been placed for every destroyer and submarine chaser that the shipyards of the country can build, and new records are expected in construction. All this is in addition to the 32,000-ton battleships; the five battle cruisers of 35,000 tons each the largest and swiftest war vessels ever built; the six scout cruisers and many auxiliary craft for which we have made contracts. These will be built as early as possible, but the right of way in construction isbeing given to destroyers and small craft.

Since the day war was declared the navy has patrolled our own coasts. For coast defenses scores of vessels have been secured—yachts, fishing vessels, fast motor boats and other minor craft, and others are being added to this force as rapidly as possible.

The navy has sent to France a corps of aviators, who arrived on June 8, the first contingent of the regular armed forces of the United States to land on French soil. The Aeronautic Corps has been greatly enlarged, aviation bases established along the coast, and officers and men trained in the operation of seaplanes, dirigible baloons, and other types of aircraft. An additional appropriation of $45,000,000 has been asked for aviation.

About $80,000,000 is involved in the entire building program in our navy yards, training stations, submarine and aviation bases, the big storage warehouses we are building for munitions and supplies, the new shops, foundries, shipways ,the huge drydocks, and the various structures under way or provided for.

The Marine Corps has been more than doubled in enlisted strength since the war began. On April 6 there were in the corps 426 commissioned officers and 13,266 enlisted men. It now has more than 28,000 enlisted men, only 1,479 recruits being required to bring it up to its full authorized enlisted strength of 30,000. A force of marines has been landed in France for service under Gen. Pershing, and the entire corps is eager for action.

Norma Talmadge in "Panthea."

A devoted wife submits to dishonor to save her husband's life. Was she wrong? This is the theme and question raised in the powerful photo-drama "Panthea," in which the popular Norma Talmadge will make her first appearance as a Selznick-Pictures star at the Electric Theatre tomorrow night.

Miss Talmadge, who recently left the Triangle company to head her own producing organization, will be seen in the role made famous on the stage by Mme. Olga Petrova. The part offers the talented young star her greatest opportunity for the expression of her emotional powers, and judging by reports from New York and other large cities where the picture has been shown, Miss Talmadge has made a tremendous hit in her new portrayal.

The story of "Panthea" deals with a young Russian girl who, falsely accused by the secret police of revolutionary activities, escapes to England and marries a struggling composer. In Paris Panthea's husband suffers many disappointments in an effort to have his opera produced. He gives way under the strain and the physician tells Panthea that the only way in which her husband's life can be saved is through the realization of his musical ambition. Panthea makes a gallant struggle to interest the various impresarios of the operatic world in her husband's work.

She meets an old Russian friend, a Baron, who has great influence in musical circles. Driven to desperation, Panthea submits to the Baron's dishonorable proposal in order to save her husband's life. The opera is produced, and on the eve of his triumph Panthea's husband discovers the relationship between her and the Baron. A tremendous scene ensues. The reconciliation of the couple comes when the long arm of the Russian police stretches forth to snatch Panthea from Paris for exile to Siberia.

The picture was directed by Allan Dwan, formerly of the Triangle forces, and abounds in unusual photographic effects and powerfully dramatic situations. Among the spectacular incidents in the picture are scenes depicting the barbarous cruelties of the Russian police towards political prisoners and the destruction by fire of a ship at sea.

The State of Westsylvania.

The "province and government of Westsylvania" was a proposal made by the settiers in the southwest of Pennsylvania and the adjacent territory for the creation of a new state. It originated in connection with the troubles between Virginia and Pennsylvania, and the scheme was brought forward early in July, 1776. A description of the proposed government defines the bounds as "beginning at the eastern branch of the Ohio opposite the mouth of the Scioto and running thence in a direct line to the Owasioto pass, thence to the top of the Allegheny mountains, thence with the top of the said mountains to the northern limits of the purchase made from the Indians in 1768 at the treaty of Fort Stanwix, thence with the said limits to the Allegheny or Ohio river and then down the said river as purchased from the said Indians at the aforesaid treaty of Fort Stanwix at the beginning." A call for a convention to organize the government was issued, but a memorial of the Virginia committee of West Augusta county to the lower house of assembly led to the abandonment of the plan.—Philadelphia Press.

BACKACHE SOON DISAPPEARED

Could Not Do Housework Till Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed Cause.

Fort Fairfield, Maine.—"For many months I suffered from backache caused by female troubles so I was unable to do my house work. I took treatments for it but received no help whatever. Then some of my friends asked why I did not try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and my backache soon disappeared and I felt like a different woman, and now have a healthy little baby girl and do all my house work. I will always praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did."—Mrs. ALTON D. OAKES, Fort Fairfield, Maine.

When a remedy has lived for forty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of merit?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened and read by women only.

Sprays and douches will never cure you.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing painful and difficult breathing and other discomforts. But the real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs.

This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface. To be rid of Catarrh, you must drive the disease germs out of your blood.

Splendid results have been reported from the use of S. S. S., which completely routs from your blood the Catarrh germs, for which it is a perfect antidote.

"Suffer little children to come unto me." Kelly answered this by muttering, "Yes, Lord, they're coming now," or "Yea, Lord, they're coming." He was not sure which expression he used.

From the children's room Kelly is quoted as saying he went into the room where Mr. and Mrs. Moore were sleeping. Here the voice again prompted him, "More work yet; there must b esacrifices of blood." The alleged confession states that Kelly told God he was working as fast as he could.
